Uniform Scoop

Olivet's band, under the direction of Carl Bangs, will appear in new uniforms—our very own—this afternoon in the parade.

The new uniforms will be ..... with ..... and ..... This is the best information available at this time, and it's from a reliable source.

These uniforms are definitely an asset to the appearance and morale of the band—and a credit to Olivet College.

The money to purchase them was raised last spring in the "all school project." A project which was well chosen because it eliminates the necessity of having to rent uniforms, as was done last year.

Third Annual Parade Today

Weather permitting — and from the looks of the previous two weeks, the weather may not permit — the third annual "Tip Off" parade will be held this afternoon at 1:30.

The first item to be considered will be the judging of the floats, which will take place on the football field prior to the parade. The floats will be judged on the basis of the appropriateness of the float to the theme—"United for Freedom"—originality, and quality of workmanship. The judging will be done by Mr. Ralph Francis of the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Fred Chalfant, Vice President of the Olivet Nazarene College Alumni Association.

ONC Homecoming Celebrated Today -- Full Slate of Events

The route to be followed by the parade will be rather sectionalized in that there will actually be two separate performances, one in Bradley and one in Kankakee. The parade will leave campus and move down Main Street in Bourbonnais (whew) to Broadway in Bradley, there it will turn to the portside and go through Bradley to Schuyler Avenue.

The line will move along Schuyler to Court Street in Kankakee where it will again go portside on Court Street to the Courthouse, then back along Merchant Street to Schuyler, and "right" to the campus.

Here it is, that annual great day—"Tip Off" Homecoming, the 14th annual Homecoming of Olivet Nazarene College. The "Tip Off" Commission, in conjunction with various student organizations and the Alumni Association has planned a full, very full, day of activities.

The morning chapel program was under the direction of Prof. Paul Schwada, the executive secretary of the Alumni Association. The regular 7:30 and 8:30 classes were suspended—with the 10:30 class being held at 8:30 and the 11:30 class at 9:30, chapel being moved up to 10:30. It had been the original wish of the Student Council to have classes suspended on "Tip Off" day because of the unusual amount of necessary absences occurring on that day.

College Church In New Bldg.

The first services in the new College Church will be held Sunday, November 13. This was announced Wednesday night by L. Guy Nees, D. D., pastor of College Church.

Dr. Nees will be the speaker of the morning, at 11:00, and Dr. Harold W. Reed, President of Olivet College, will preach in the evening service at 7:30.

Sunday School classes will meet in their usual places at 9:45 a.m.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving vacation—the first real break in the school year, will begin for Olivetians at 12:20 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 23, and end at 12:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 28. Only six months till summer vacation.

evening program. One of the major duties of this committee was to pare down the length of the evening program. Last year, everyone who attended the games was pretty well worn out by the time the second half of the men's game began—so the committee came up with a streamlined version (albeit not quite as easy as that). And it was generally agreed that something had to be done about the Chapel Program—it too will be streamlined. All of this to make "Tip Off" more of a joy than a chore to be endured once a year.

Other committees, just as important as the expediting committee, were formed—each with its own job to do.

It is the desire of the school to make Homecoming an event to be remembered and looked forward to, so while some of you slept, somebody was working to make this the best "Tip Off" ever.

The speaker for the morning chapel service was Fred Chalfant, a member of the class of 1940. Chalfant at present is Supervisor of Recreation and Special Events for the Ford Division, Ford Motor Company, and Recreation and Parks Commissioner, Livonia, Michigan.

The Olivet College Orchestra, under the direction of Professor Kenneth Bade '49 and the Apollo Choir, directed by Naomi Larsen, '33 provided the special music for the service.

The "Tip Off" Queen and her Court were introduced to the Alumni by the editor of the Glimmerglass. They were officially announced in yesterday's chapel service. The Queen is Lois Du Vall Knox, and her attendants are Darlene Barker, Monagail Kennedy, Pat McGuire, and Jan Storer. The Queen and her Court will rule over the activities of the entire day and will participate in the parade this afternoon. Queen Lois will be crowned this evening between the women's and men's games in the Bradley High School gymnasium.

The "Tip Off" parade, under the auspices of the Student Council will leave the football field at 1:30 p.m. Prior to that time, the floats will be judged.

The Alumni Tea will be held in Williams Hall Parlor at 3:30 p.m. This Tea provides an opportunity for alumni and friends to meet and visit.

In order to accommodate the usual overflow crowd, the Bradley High School gymnasium has been secured for the traditional "O" Club-Alumni games. The seating capacity of the gym is 2,000. All seats for the game are reserved at $1.00 per.

The activities between the evening's games will include the coronation of the Queen, and the presentation of the "Rusty Keg" to Professor Vail, as coach of last year's victorious "O" Club team. Entertainment will be provided by the Band, the Girls' Drill Team, two Drum Majors, and a Liddell, Collins production.

Lois Knox Chosen Queen by Students

Lois Du Vall Knox has been elected by the student body of Olivet College to be 1955 Tip Off Homecoming Queen.

Mrs. Knox, who calls Youngstown, Ohio home, was chosen on the basis of her Christian leadership, character, personality, and scholarship.

She is a junior, working toward a B.S. in Music Education. Knox has participated in several campus organizations during her two years at Olivet.

Tonight, between the women's and men's games, Lois will be crowned officially, although she has reigned over the entire day. The introduction of Lois as the student choice for Queen was made yesterday in the chapel program along with the announcement of the court.

These girls were chosen by the student body from the entire list of eligible junior and senior girls—and it might be said that every girl in the junior and senior classes received at least one vote.

Preachers' Wives' Seminar Prepares Parsonage 'Queens'

Wives of the future preachers of America gain understanding of problems and enjoy fellowship as they meet each Monday evening in the Preachers' Wives' Seminar. This Seminar is primarily for the wives of the ministerial students of Olivet who are interested in preparing for their role as queen of the parsonage.

Objectives of this course are to provide opportunity for the student ministers' wives to get acquainted, and to aid them in preparing for their life's work.

This year, Mrs. H. W. Reed, who is in charge of the course, has chosen as a theme, "Devotion, Loyalty, and Service." The weekly sessions are centered around this theme with a view to gaining maximum understanding of it in relationship to future duties in the parsonage. Special speakers thus far have been Dr. Cotner, Dr. Perry, Prof. Lunsford, and Rev. Swearingen.

November 21 will be the last meeting of the year, with the ladies entertaining the Faculty wives and wives of the ministers in this area.

Although this Seminar will not be carried on through Second Semester, there will be classes offered in the regular College curriculum which are adapted to the needs of the minister's wife.

Co-ordinating Committee

This is the 14th Annual "Tip Off" Homecoming of Olivet College. Year by year the event is getting larger and larger and attracting more and more Alumni back to the campus to meet old friends and to see the progress made on the campus.

The "prime mover" in this busy event is the Tip Off Commission appointed by Dr. H. W. Reed, president of the College, to have over-all responsibility for the affairs of the day. Prof. Paul Schwada is the chairman of this august body.

The Commission must work closely with the participating organizations, such as the Student Council, the "O" Club, and The Glimmerglass. It is more than a liaison group, however, and is far from being just a "farming out" agency for "Tip Off" duties.

It has been meeting since the first month of school and has tried to take into consideration all of the things with which it should be concerned—such as the price of tickets, who gets in free, the length of the chapel program, who shall have which chapel programs, the length of the evening program, the printing of programs, the planning of the various programs, how much should be spent here and how much there, and a few other problems which invariably come up in the planning of an event as complex as a homecoming.

This year a committee was set up to make more efficient use of the chapel time, and the

Unity

"United for Freedom" is the theme for the 1955 Homecoming Parade. Unity—or oneness—is an elusive virtue. Unity requires a perfect mesh of gears—all moving for a singular purpose in one particular piece of machinery; each synchronized with the others.

There is room for difference—not all of the gears need be of the same metal—some are of fine tempered steel, some are of softer copper, some are alloyed such as brass. Some gears are seen—others are unseen. Some are quiet—some are noisy. Some drink much oil, to keep them smooth and relatively frictionless—others use it sparingly. Some gears are large—some are small. Sometimes the smaller does more than the larger—or the "unseen" more than the "seen." Some gears only work half the time—others are always moving. Some are fast—some are slow.

Each gear has its own duty to perform—in its own way, within limits. Each part performs its duty with a nearly perfect co-relation to the whole operation.

Freedom and Unity make room for individual difference—each of us may be a different "gear"—but we are all working toward a common goal. Our particular "section" contributes a definite spiritual and ethical temper to the process as a whole. Without our contribution as a "section" (that is as fervent, evangelical Christians) Freedom and Unity, the mortar of our republican democracy, would cause those very things to crumble into an ash or dust of mere ethics—"do-gooders," etc.—or worse, an agnostic or even atheistic society.

In order to function properly, our "section" needs every part—every individual—to be in working order. Each individual striving with the others to improve the efficiency of the "section" and machine as a whole. Let us therefore, work in unity.

Not everyone can be the "big wheel"—but each one, working in his place is necessary for even the "big wheel" to be able to run.

Then, let us do our part and unite for freedom in a more positive way—not to gain it, but to preserve and solidify it.

Theological Miscellanea- Religious News Report

by Ron Smith

Detroit—"And how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a telephone?" "Dial-A-Prayer," whereby a person in need may dial a number and hear a recorded message or prayer, is gaining in popularity across the nation. (With natural opposition) Originated by Paul Phillips of Van Nuys, Calif., the system has been used by YMCA groups in Detroit, Chicago, Baltimore, New Jersey, and by various churches with apparently good results. Thousands of calls daily are answered by this system, and many have written of real relief and confidence gained. A unique modern means of reaching the people. Good or bad, it shows a definite longing by many for help and interest.

Long Island—A service organization supervised by the Suffolk county and National Council of churches has recently demonstrated interest in migrant workers. Women from twelve churches provided hot lunches for children of migrants and transportation to vacation Bible school. A public campaign informed people of the county of some of the migrants' needs, and promoted fellowship meetings. Migrants were welcomed at worship services, church schools, Boy Scout services, etc. "Go to the highways . . ."

Texarkana, Arkansas—A referendum to open a $5 million race track was to be voted on in Texarkana, and various clergymen decided to do something to defeat the proposal. All night prayer meetings were held, television appeals were made, and newspaper ads spoke out against the track. The vote was more than 2-1 against the gambling center.

New York—The Guild of Catholic Lawyers' juvenile delinquency committee is promoting religious teaching in schools. And they want nondenominational teaching, too. They request: (1) Nondenominational religious teaching included in public school curriculum, (2) enlarging and intensifying the program of religious education in elementary schools and extension to high schools, (3) setting up of teaching staffs and library facilities by religious groups, (4) credit granted for religious courses. The Guild believes such a program would reduce juvenile delinquency.

Brazil—An owner of several radio stations in Brazil which broadcast the Catholic Eucharistic Congress in July was unimpressed by the type of services conducted. But Miguel Rizzo, founder of the Institute of Religious Culture and editor of the nondenominational magazine Unitas, has stirred him greatly. In fact, since reading a pamphlet by Rizzo and listening to him speak, the radio station owner has invited the Protestant minister to speak at Rio De Janeiro and has announced his support of Rizzo publicly. Rizzo regards Christianity as a set of principles to be tested in daily living, not a doctrinarian and institutional apparatus. Nazarenes believe in daily living, and not just as a trial system.

Former ONC Athletes' Accomplishments Noted

by Dick North

A bribed prognosticator could not have told of more favorable circumstances nor more meaningful lives than those being engaged in by former participants in Olivet's traditional "Tip Off" game.

Ever hear of names like Marvin Taylor, George Snyder, Wendell Wellman, Don Gibson, Bond Woodruff, Fred Chalfant, or Selden Kelley, Jr. These are a few of Olivet's former athletes who are being as successful in their present endeavors as they were in "swishing one in from midcourt" or "scoring on a hook shot."

Taylor, now Dr. Marvin Taylor, who incidentally coached the 1944 alumni squad to a 38-20 victory over the "O" clubbers, earned his Ph.D. at Pittsburgh University and is now Director of Religious Education at Lebanon Methodist Church in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

George Snyder is well-known to Iowans as the minister of music for Des Moines First Church. He graduated from Olivet in 1942 and has since earned his masters degree.

Wendell Wellman, '42 grad, has departed for "deep Dixie" to pastor the Atlanta, Georgia First Church of the Nazarene, while Don Gibson, 1944, now pastors Milwaukee First Church.

Bond Woodruff, better known to us as Dr. Woodruff, played an important role in Olivet's athletic activities in by-gone days. Of course we all know him today as lecturer "suprema et superbola" and Chairman of Olivet's Psychology department.

Fred Chalfant, today's chapel speaker, who lettered in all sports at "old" Olivet, returned from the armed service where he was a prisoner of the Germans to participate in the 1946 "Tip Off" contest as an alumnus. He has taken graduate work at George Washington University and Wayne University and is now Supervisor of Recreation and Special Events for the Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company.

Selden Kelley, Jr., participant in the 1946 game and son of one of our former presidents, has earned his masters degree from Boston University. He now resides in Elkhart, Indiana as District Manager of the U. S. Rubber Company.

Others, such as Kenneth Faust, Harry Hatton, Beryl Spross, Jesse Martin, Orville Maish, Jr., John Hieftje, Norman Bloom, Morris Chalfant, Tom Pauley, and Jim Farris, have channeled their athletic aggressiveness into service for God as Nazarene pastors.

Commentary on Soviet's 'About Face' at Geneva

By Bassett

The so-called "Spirit of Geneva" seems to have vanished. The early smiles and "maybe we can get along after all" attitude have dissipated into thin air. The whole affair is like the two boys who are always fighting finally making up — then one says, "I think I could have whipped you any way," and they're off for another round of scrapping.

The West entered into the Geneva Conference with high hopes of continuing in the same spirit of good fellowship, relatively speaking, as the previous conference. All of the representatives went to Switzerland with smiles, outward at least. Then Wednesday the storm broke.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov regressed to his old self, and in the name of the "Soviet people" let it be known that the only united Germany that Russia wanted was a communist Germany — otherwise, Germany could just remain divided.

It is doubtful that this is any change in Soviet policy. It may be true that Molotov did go to Moscow for the week end and apparently was ordered by the Kremlin to "get tough" again, but Molotov's statements were not any indication of any drastic change in policy—rather, they were just a restatement of the same old script.

The Western Big Three were thrown into a difficult situation by Molotov's speech in that they were forced to scrap any present plans for German reunification, and may have to make reappraisal of the western European defense system.

Also, it now makes any foreseeable vote by the German people on the matter of reunification a virtual impossibility—although Germany has been divided 10½ years, and reunification was to be one of the major duties of the Allies.

Why do we get our hopes up just because of a few Soviet smiles? Russia has been proving itself untrustworthy for 30 years—and grabbing off nearly all of Asia and half of Europe in the process. What reason have we to hope for a change of heart on the part of "the Bear," unless it is to their advantage in gaining new land? We must be guillible.

Insulation

The insulation being used on the outside pipes from the boiler room to the new library is the result of rather recent chemical research.

The material has the appearance of fine coal dust, and fuses when it is heated, to form a protection for the pipes.

Time For A Change?

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO — (ACP) — The Wittenberg Torch lists this one in its favorite story section:

A successful businessman on visit to his alma mater dropped in on his economics professor. Recalling that he used to have trouble with economics exams, he asked to see some of the current papers. Noting them casually, he observed:

"These are the same old questions."

"Yes," agreed the professor. "We never change the questions."

"But," said the visitor, "Don't you know the students will pass the questions from class to class?"

"Certainly," was the bland reply, "but in economics, we always change the answers."

Quick

It takes an airliner less time to fly from Chicago to Detroit than it does for a normal person to walk from the campus to Court and Schuyler in downtown Kankakee.

Bob Clingman, Virgil Nutt, Leo Baugas, Chuck Oswalt, Bill Krabell, Don Golliher, Tom Wood, and "Butch" Ward are molding young lives in the schools of our nation.

We shall have to wait for the passage of time to illumine the deeds and accomplishments of more recent participants in this, the biggest event of the school year at ONC.

However, as we view this spectacle tonight, we should realize that these are men who will contribute greatly in years to come to our society; for qualities displayed upon the basketball court are the same as those that can determine success or failure in life itself.

Indiana University Symphony Orchestra and Singers to Give Concert; ONC Lyceum Series

Indiana University's Symphony Orchestra and Singers will give a joint concert in Kankakee High School Auditorium while on their fall tour.

W. C. Bain, dean of the School of Music, will direct the University Singers consisting of the 40 top voice students of the music school and Ernst Hoffman will be conducting the orchestra on tour. There will be 50 instrumentalists in the touring orchestra.

The University's Orchestra has achieved outstanding recognition and is becoming one of the most distinctive musical organizations of its kind in the Middle West.

The University Singers present programs of great choral literature, especially selected to display the unique qualities which have brought the organization recognition as one of the finest choral groups in the country.

The I. U. Orchestra appears jointly with the Singers in many concerts and nation-wide tours.

The personnel of the University Singers is chosen by auditions. Many of the members are preparing themselves to be choral directors and professional singers.

The Singers perform a full schedule of concerts both on and off the campus and sing most of the leading roles in the University's operatic productions.

In presenting the concert to the college the men singers will wear cassocks of rich crimson velvet, with broad sashes of the same material and the women will wear similar cassocks with surplises of egg-shell satin.

Last November these two musical organizations presented a concert in New York's famed Carnegie Hall.

The "Stabat Mater," which will be on the program, is the second of a group of four religious works composed by the great Italian composer, Giuseppe Verdi. The other three are "Ave Maria," "Te Deum," and "Laudi alla Vergine Maria."

The Johannes Brahms composition is taken from the Poem Hyperion's Song of Destiny by the romantic German poet, Friederich Holderlin. Brahms spent three years in composing "The Song," which was first performed at Karlsruhe, a large city in southwestern Germany, by the Philharmonic Society with the composer conducting.

Also on the program to be given next Friday will be the performance by the Indiana University Orchestra, with Ernst Hoffman conducting, of Mendelssohn's Fifth Symphony, commonly known as the Reformation Symphony. This symphony was written to commemorate the tercentenary of the Augsburg Protestant Confession, the creed of the Lutheran Church. In the first movement there appears a quotation of the "Dresden Amen" which Wagner was later to use in the prelude to "Parsifal."

Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, dean of the Indiana University School of Music, who for many years has had an outstanding reputation among music directors and choral directors throughout the country, will direct the Indiana University Singers.

Before coming to Indiana University in 1947, Dr. Bain was dean of the School of Music at North Texas State College for 10 years. During this period, the School of Music increased its enrollment by nearly 400 per cent. Since he came to Indiana University, the School of Music has undergone a similar transformation.

A native of New York and a graduate of Houghton College and Westminster Choir College, Dean Bain has the masters and doctors degrees from New York University. He also has done graduate work at Eastman School of Music and the Father Finn Choral School in New York. His record of accomplishment at his former positions at Houghton College and North Texas State College, climaxed by the tremendous progress which he has achieved at the Indiana University School of Music, has set him apart as one of the most progressive of the present generation of American music educators.

Dean Bain is a former president of the Music Teachers National Association and of the advisory staff of the fine arts department of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

Ernst Hoffman, conductor of the Indiana University Symphony Orchestra and formerly conductor of the Houston (Texas) Symphony Orchestra and the Breslau Opera and Philharmonic Orchestra in Germany, will conduct the I. U. Orchestra.

Hoffman began his career at Harvard University, where he graduated cum laude at the age of 18. After serving a year as first violinist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, he went to Germany to study conducting at the Berlin Hochschule fur Musik.

A year later, in 1922, he was engaged as assistant conductor at the Breslau Opera House, becoming the regular conductor there in 1924. He was the only American who ever held such a post in Germany. He remained in Breslau until 1934.

Returning to the U. S., Hoffman first conducted at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York and later was asked to head the newly formed Commonwealth Symphony Orchestra in Boston. In 1936 he accepted an invitation to become regular conductor of the Houston Symphony Orchestra, where he remained until 1948 when he joined the staff of Indiana University.

When he was brought to Indiana, Hoffman took over and effected a reorganization of the institution's symphony orchestra, raising it from an average school orchestra to what has been hailed by critics as near-professional status.

In addition, he has been musical director for the School of Music's operatic productions, which has included premieres of Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley," Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," "Billy Budd" by Benjamin Britten, and others.

Men's Dress

STORRS, CONN. — (ACP) — Gentlemen, you're on the defensive. A female feature writer in the Connecticut Daily Campus has this to say about the apparel of the average college male:

Male students on campus seem to dress mainly for convenience. It may be easier to get up in the morning and throw on an old shirt and a pair of khakies for your eight o'clock class, and who has time to shave, you may say, but have you ever thought of the appearance you present to others?

The business world stresses neatness and partially judges character by it. Of course it is all right to be comfortable, but this can be accomplished along with a neat appearance. "Just what do you consider proper dress?" you may ask. Here is what a cross section of co-eds on campus think about it.

The ideal man wears clean, pressed khakies, a v-necked sweater, and please, boys, with a shirt under it, or maybe, on occasion, a suitcoat. The latter, along with a shirt and tie, would be greatly appreciated for evening wear in the Student Union by the way. Our "hero" also has his hair combed, or at least resorts to the well known alternative of getting a butch haircut, so that it won't show. To go on, he takes time to shave in the morning. Nothing looks worse than a two day beard. You never have time? Then why not try setting your alarm five minutes earlier for a change?

You may think that these are rather strong words and that girls have no right to intrude into the Men's world of mannerisms and habits. Think a minute. It is our school too, you know. Did it ever occur to you that your dress may have something to do with the higher opinions that are reserved for the so-called "Ivy League" schools?

Neurotic Nibblers

(ACP) — The Kansas State Collegian observes that psychologists have discovered a new and fertile field . . . one centering around the knife and fork.

An assistant professor of home economics at Wayne University claims she can tell what kind of person you are by what you eat.

"Substitute eaters" who like pie for breakfast, and dessert before the main course, show they have grown up feeling insecure and unloved, she claims. They let food take the place of affection. So does the anxious eater, who has a long list of foods that upset him.

Then there's the "ritualistic eater" who must always eat on time and was probably always protected from drafts and made to wear his rubbers. The "spoiled darling," often considered frail and pampered, gets a kick out of food fad cults.

MSU May Pioneer In Traffic Safety

EAST LANSING, MICH. — (ACP — Michigan State University may soon become a pioneer in the field of highway and traffic safety.

Governor G. Mennen Williams says he will ask the legislature to okay a $311,000 annual appropriation for MSU to establish a college department "offering an across-the-board technical, academic, professional and in-service traffic program."

The proposed center would offer five specific services designed to aid Michigan residents and help cure the state's traffic ills.

'O' Men -- 10th Win

The time of year for electing queens and celebrating homecomings has arrived at Olivet, with the festivities taking place on the court rather than the gridiron. A thrill-packed contest can be expected when Olivet's two teams of excellent ability take the floor.

Coach Vail's team of collegians will take the floor with a decided edge in shooting percentage and ball-handling with guards Jim Smith, Dave Brown, and Wendell Parsons. Virgil Nutt the mentor of the old men will give the "O" Clubbers a rough time under the boards with stalwarts Lee McMurrin, Tom Pauly, Moe Hughes and Clem Parr scraping the rims, and cagers like Mattox, Clendenen, Nash, and McCullough passing the ball, the game should prove to be interesting. It might be added that the rebounding know-how of Fischer, Petrie, Meissner, and Mitchell could atone for the lack of height.

'O' Girls -- Underdogs

Coach Cross' "O" Club girls will have to rise to the occasion tonight when they meet the alumni in what promises to be a close battle. The graduates have taken a mythical back seat during the past years in the won-lost column; however, they are given a more than average chance to come out in the long end of the score this evening. In their years as Olivetians, Shirley Crabtree, Marilyn Starr and Jackie Watson proved to be especially efficient. However we can't discount the scoring ability of "O" Clubbers Norma Blochberger and Barbara Strong. I'll put my head on the proverbial chopping block (for all would be executioners) and predict a win for the Alumni ladies.

"O" Club Women

Norma Blochberger, Leavenworth, Kansas
Mollie Cook, Columbus, Ohio

Lou Cook and Ron Thompson are being dubbed the "touchdown twins" on the strength of their identical 75 points during the football season . . . . . Our congrats to Spartan flinger Orville Beemer for a job well done. In one loosing effort he pitched a no-hitter, and in another game he became the loosing pitcher after being the winner because of an ineligible player, which should serve as a warning to all society leaders to check on their participants before letting them play . . . . . ## Trojans Unscored Upon In Past Tackle Football Season

The unbeaten and unscored upon Trojan gridders made it a double sweep of fall athletics as they crossed the white stripe for 237 points while hanging a goose-egg on the opposition. In their last game, an unexpected surge of power netted the boys in blue three T. D.'s on four plays against the Indians. It was a surprise to the "many" spectators because of the close games the two teams had played previously. It was this contest that saw the Indians stopped six inches short of the goal line at the final gun, while loosing 36-0.

Standouts on the Trojans this year were hard to pick, as the team was well balanced. We might site the hard and elusive running of Cook, Fry, and Thompson, or the strategy and ball-handling of quarterback Vern Fischer. The forward wall gave an excellent exhibition of blocking and tackling, with end Rollie Jakobitz making many deft grabs of the pigskin.

The Indians showed a spirited drive, but were lacking in experience. Jim Thompson and Gene Phillips did yeoman work at the halfback spots—Thompson turning and twisting from tacklers, with Phillips relying on speed to carry him to the secondary. Darrell Trotter and Chuck Nash also displayed fine ability snaring passes.

The Spartan green men were just that—green. Only three of the starting team had football experience before coming to Olivet. However, despite this factor they were hustling all the way. A plague of injuries during the season did much to hamper and weaken the scrappy Spartan nine. Pudge Leas, Dave Knotts and Dick Hawley did a fine job of anchoring the middle of the line.

Considering all factors, the season was an enjoyable and profitable one. Until next issue, when we'll trot out the round ball news . . . so long sport.

Indian Girls -- Softball Title

The Indian lassies did the expected and walked away with the softball crown for the second straight year. They put on a dazzling display of power by placing six players above .500 in batting percentage, Norma Blochberger and Martha McRoberts connecting for .741 and .731 respectively. However, the Spartans and Trojans weren't lax in hitting the apple as they collectively placed six above .500, Bev Hickler topping the Trojan sluggers with .666 and Hill copping the batting laurels for the Spartans with .500. Ann Taylor displayed her pitching ability by winning all five of the Indian games.
